

AMT MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (MT) CERTIFICATION SELF-ASSESSMENT

This self-assessment tool can be used to guide you through AMT’s Medical Technologist (MT) eligibility requirements. Please use this worksheet as a final check before submitting an application to American Medical Technologist. DO NOT submit this worksheet with your application. The completion of this worksheet does NOT guarantee qualification. It is for your use only.

EDUCATION

- Do you possess a baccalaureate degree in medical technology from a program or institution accredited by a recognized regional or national accreditation agency? The accrediting agency MUST be US-based. If not, you must qualify under a different route.
- Do you possess a baccalaureate degree other than in medical technology? If so, have you completed at least 35 semester hours of coursework related to the clinical laboratory sciences (biological science, microbiology, organic chemistry, biochemistry, mathematics)?

NOTE: International applications MUST have their credentials evaluated by an evaluation agency listed on the AMT website. The US equivalency summary MUST indicate that your education is EQUIVALENT to a baccalaureate degree or higher.

- Do you possess a baccalaureate degree AND did you complete an accredited medical laboratory technician (MLT) training program or a US 50-week military training program?

List below the courses that qualify for the 35 semester hours:

Note: A. one quarter hour = 2/3 semester hour B. one semester hour = 15 clock hours C. one quarter hour = 10 clock hours
